Bladen Community College Encourages Spring Enrollment for Career and College Success

Dublin, NC — Bladen Community College (BCC) is now enrolling for the spring semester and invites prospective students to discover an affordable, flexible, and future-focused pathway to success. With classes beginning regularly and the full spring curriculum starting January 9, now is the time to take the next step toward a rewarding career or a four-year degree.

Bladen Community College offers a wide range of degree, diploma, and certificate programs designed to meet students where they are and help them reach their goals. Students can choose from associate degree programs that transfer seamlessly to four-year universities, as well as high-demand workforce development programs that lead to well-paying jobs in a short amount of time.

For those ready to enter the workforce quickly, BCC's short-term training programs prepare students for in-demand careers such as truck driving (CDL), electrical, welding, carpentry and other skilled trades. These programs are designed to provide hands-on training, industry-relevant skills, and fast entry into today's job market.

Students considering a four-year degree can also benefit from starting at Bladen Community College. With significant cost savings, smaller class sizes, and personalized instruction, students can complete their general education requirements close to home before transferring—saving thousands of dollars while receiving the same high-quality education. BCC's faculty and staff are known for their commitment to student success, providing individual attention that can be harder to find at larger institutions.

Bladen Community College offers day, evening, and online classes, making it easier for students to balance education with work, family, and other responsibilities. The College's strong reputation for being student-centered and future-focused ensures that programs are aligned with both student goals and workforce needs.

Prospective students are also encouraged to ask about the Bladen Together initiative at the newly established Booker T. Washington location, as well as the no-cost childcare training program, which provides an excellent opportunity for individuals seeking a career in early childhood education without the burden of tuition costs.

Don't delay—opportunities are waiting. While some classes begin throughout the term, the regular spring semester starts January 9. To learn more and get started today, contact the Advising Center at 910.879.5584.

Bladen Community College is ready to help you build your future—this spring and beyond.
